

ABSTRACTBOAT

5 A display device 8 such as a flat screen television may be stowed away out of sight within a cabin by partly recessing into a moulded coaming 3 forming part of the boat's superstructure 1 in addition to being partially received in a special housing 7. In this way, the fact that a display device 8 is hidden out of view is made less obvious because the housing 7 does not conform to the shape of the display device 8.

10

(Figs. 2 & 4)

15